There are more and more rookies in evidence in town. I thought they would have some privates here sometime. He is the last fellow to receive the buck. He cannot pass it on, poor devil.

Sorry to hear that Col. John C. Wade has been in the hospital. Col. Wade certainly has carried on his business, that of Area Engineer, in a concientious and efficient manner. He is a soldier and a gentleman, and that's saying a mouthful.

Dear Mr. Taylor: I thoroughly enjoyed Senator McKeller's book about the Senators from Tennessee. Thank you very much.

Up to Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Grenada has not had TWO fires at the SAME time. However, we MAY have two at any moment, and then what will happen?

I imagine a good many of the holders of B cards feel somewhat embarrassed at times. Some of the holders of C cards must get real red in the face at times.

All right, sister, you will be walking about a month earlier because you tried to take off some of the concrete from the curb wpith your rubber tires. However, walking is good for the reduction of fannies.

Hon. J. P. Coleman dropped by recently and stated that he was a definite candidate, and would officially announce later.

"Dry" Mississippi is a tragic joke. I hope somebody, aspiring to the legislature from Grenada county, will have the guts to come out for local option, or, better still, outright repeal of the always-broken and never-respected licker laws.

Roy Doak has evidently definitely decided to postpone having an ad until after the war.

All of the damn foolishness that has been going on since 1933—with seemingly no end in sight—is going to break the so-called Solid South, which has always voted Democratic, and would vote for a hound dog if he were tagged with a Democratic label in preference to a trained statesman who bore the label of a Republican. The time is not far distant, in my opinion, when the so-called Democratic Party (which exists in name only) will be as dead as a door nail, as a dodo, or as a defunct doodlebug.

"Horseshoes Is Horseshoes"

I want to talk to you for a few minutes about our farm machinery and parts program. Not that horseshoes are the most important things needed in connection with farming, but because theattitude of the Industrial Program Branch Office of Civilian Supply, of the War Production Boad, toward the humble horseshoe is indicative of the way farm machinery and parts are being handled, and gives a fairly good insight into the practical knowledge of those administering the program.

For many months I have not only been vexed and irritated, but at times alarmed, at some of the blunders that have been made in connection with our food-for-victory program. It is evident that many of those who seemingly are directing the farm program which, in my opinion, is the biggest, the toughest program confronting the American people today, never had their lily-white hands soiled by mother earth, nor needed a good scrubbing Saturday night to get rid of the malodor of the barnyard so they would not only look but smell presentable Sunday morning.

Some of these long-haired star-gazers who are administering the program, I am afraid, know more about astronomy than they do about agronomy. If they would stop dreaming, take their eyes off of the stars, and get their feet back on good earth we would get along better.

In peacetime it is tragic for the directing head to be ignorant of what he is directing. In war it is not only tragic—it is fatal. When it comes to wrecking our war effort, the saboteur who has to work under cover and await his opportunity to wreck is a piker compared with the incompetent directing head who, by reason of his position, does not have to await his opportunity to wreck, but with a boldness engendered by ignorance, wrecks in the broad daylight.

But let me get back to my text. In Grenada we have two hardware companies, manned by two country boys who moved to town and made good. Roy Doak is the directing head of Doak Hardware Co., and L. G. Roberts is the directing head of the Roberts Hardware Co. Neither [illegible] get any horseshoes, so they took the matter up with the Industrial Program Branch, Office of Civilian Supply, War Production Board, and in due course received a reply which, while it clearly demonstrated that the writer knows his syntax and rhetoric, on its face furnishes indisputable proof that he does not know his horseshoes. Or does he? While Roy and L. G. and I were all raised on the farm, it has been a good many years since we left the dear old sod, and during the intervening years probably horseshoes, like many other things have been evolutionized, and our failure to appreciate the learned treatise on horseshoes is due to the fact that we have not kept abreast of the times. However, I have a sneaking idea that back on the farm today "pigs is still pigs" and "horseshoes is still horseshoes."

My readers, the fourth paragraph of the reply is such an illuminating, learned tretise on horseshoes, and especially on the use of horseshoes and the modern custom of farmers with respect thereto, that I believe it should be preserved among the sacred archives of this great Republic, so I quote it verbatim:

"The 75-percent quota for horseshoes when applied to the 1940-41 average as a base will yield 92 percent as many new shoes as were produced in 1942. This available production can be much further extended in supplying urgent 1943 needs for food production and other activities essential to the war effort by: (1) more 'resets' to get more wear out of available shoes; (2) elimination of uses which are obviously nonproductive and nonessential in the war effort; (3) elimiation of unessectial styles and improved distribution methods to reduce the quantity tied up in inventories; and, (4) horse owners can, in many cases, save shoes by removing the shoes immediately after a period of necessary road work or other work where shoes are necessary only during certain periods."

I do not think I should hide the identity of the author of the above masterpiece. He is no other than Mr. Edward R. Gay, chief of the Industrial Branch, Office of Civilian Supply, War Production Board. Mr. Gay, informed, is a resident of the city of New York, educated at Harvard, and prior to becoming attaced to the Government on June 15, 1942, was vice president of St. Regis Paper Co., of New York. A splendid background for one selected to administer the machinerty and parts program for the farmers of America.

Now, when I was a boy, it was more or less a treat to take one of the horses to the country blacksmith to be shod. In the first place, it meant that I would get a good rest for a few hours; and then, too, I got a kick out of watching Uncle Ned take the old shoes off and put a new shoe on. As I remember, he had to first unclinch the nails that had been embedded into the hoof and then pull the nails in order to get the old shoe off. You know at that time we followed the crude method of nailing the things on. Having gotten the old shoe off, which was no easy undertaking, he then proceeded to trim the hoof down to get rid of the growth that had taken place since the old shoe was nailed on and to shape the hoof up for the new shoe. The hoof having been prepared, he then placed the new shoe over the hoof to determine what changes, if any, would have to be made in the new shoe before being nailed on. He then placed the new shoe in tht forge, started pumping the bellows to fan the fire up, and after heating the shoe to a white heat took it out of the forge with a pair of tongs and commenced whipping it into shape on the anvil.

After two or three fittings the new shoe was ready to be nailed on. The nails were inserted in the holes the manufacturers had provided in the shoe, which had been opened up by Uncle Ned with the proper tool, and the nails were driven at the right angle for them to come through the hoof about 1 inch above the shoe. The nails having been driven in, a grove was filled just under the nails, the nails cut off to the proper length, and then embedded in the groove to hold them secure. Then, all tat remained for Uncle New to do was to dress the hoof with a file so it would be even and smooth around the shoe. Horseshoes in those days were put on to stay. It was supposed to be a permanent operation that would hold the shoe until it wore out. The shoes were not put on with the idea in mind that sooner or later they would be taken off or reset.

Well, it seems that Roy and L. G. and I have grown a little rusty on our horseshoes and horseshoeing. The rules of the game have entirely changed. And for fear that the good farmers in my district are as ignorant on the subject as Roy and L. G. and I, I want to make a few observations to set them right. These observations, of course, are all based upon the learned dissertation I have just quoted.

First, in order to lengthen the life of the shoe, you must have more "resets". I am glad that the word "resets" was enclosed in quotations, because I am frank to admit that at first the word as applied to horseshoes bothered me, and it was comforting to know that the learned author had evidently borrowed the expression. After much study, however, I believe I have the thing all figured out. If your horse is knock-kneed in his front legs, for instance, and this physical deformitory causes the inner parts of the front shoes to wear out faster than the outer parts, why, all you have to do is to take old Dobbin back to Uncle Ned for a "reset," and he wiss correct the whole matter by simply changing shoes. Oh, it may be a little costly having the left shoe taken off and put on the right foot and the right shoe taken off and put on the left foot, but this little extra cost is all absorbed in the satisfaction that comes to you from knowing that you are living abreast of the times and playing the game according to the latest W. P. B. rules. Then, you know, another thing that frequently calls for "resets" is the slue-footed horse. This deformity usually appears in the front legs and causes the toe of the front foot to strike the surface first, which, in turn, has a tendency to wear the front of the shoes out faster. Well, this is all corrected by "resets'. In this case all you have to do is to put the front shoes on the hind feet and the hind shoes on the front feet. Oh, it is all quite simple after you catch on to the rules of the game.

Now, the second rule to follow in prolonging the life of the horseshoe is and I quote, the "elimination of uses which are obviously nonproductive and nonessential in the war effort." Well, what does this mean? Why, Mr. Farmer, among other things, it means this: You may feel the urge to go to church Sunday morning, and having worked from 14 to 15 hours per day all through the week you may feel "kinder" tired and entertain the old-fashioned idea that the thing to do is to "hitch old Dobbin to the shay" and drive your wife and children over. Well, if you entertain such thoughts, then banish them before you are considered unpatriotic in permitting old Dobbin to engage in work nonproductive and nonessential to the war effort. In such a case, under the new rules, the thing for you to do is to run down to the barn and put a fresh batch of straw to old Dobbin's stall to cushion her dear tootsie wootsies against the hardness of mother earth, and then go back home and get your wife and children and hoof it, brother, hoof it, on to church. Oh, this may entail the wear and tear of your own shoes, and the shoes of your wife and children, but when you think the thing through and consider the worthlessness of your own shoe leather, and the shoe leather of your wife and children, compared to the preservation of old Doobin's shoes, the patriotic sacrifice you have made makes you feel as important to the war effort as a MacArthur or Eisenhower.

And then to prolong the life of the horseshoe you must not be too finicky about the styles of shoe your horse wears, because the third rule calls for, and I quote, the "elimination of nonessential style." Now, when Roy and L. G. and I were boys a horseshoe was simply a horseshoe. Of course, there were large shoes and small shoes and middle size shoes, but they were all made on the same type last. Styles were unknown. The rich man's horse could not lord it over the poor man's horse by wearing pointed toes, or box toes, or low quarters, or patent leather, or tan shoes. I am glad to know that we are going to get rid of the styles that came in vogue after Roy and L. G. and I left the farm, because I know they created a lot of confusion and ill will and envy and jealousy among the female horses. I am afraid the female horses simply worried the farmers to death trying to keep up with the latst styles in high heels and open toes. Well, thank the Lord, this rule takes us back to the good old days of my boyhood when a horseshoe was a horseshoe which, tosay the least, is comforting. Then, you know, equality of treatment is one of the things we are fighting for in this war, and I know it brings our boys who are doing the fighting a lot of comfort to know that this equality of treatment is going to apply to horses. Yes, when it comes to horses, we have abolished styles and placed all horses upon an equal shoe footing.

And now I come to the last rule. It reads:

Horse owners can, in many cases, save shoes by removing the shoes immediately after a period of necessary road work or other work where shoes are necessary only during certain periods.

Well, this rule stumped me for a long time. Being kind of old fashioned I foolishly wondered how you would keep on taking the shoes off and putting the shoe back on. I construed the rule to mean, of course, that it was no longer polite or in accordance with established custom for old Dobbin to go to bed with her shoes on, and trying to figure out how to take her shoes off when she went to bed at night and put them back on when she got up in the morning, I confess stumped me for quite a while. And then it all came to me, as clear as the noonday sun. Why I was still living back in the horse-and-buggy dasy, and had forgotten all about—if I ever knew—the styles chpanging. Of course the improvement in styles brought about the zipper style, and I presume we now have zipper horseshoes. So, Mr. Farmer, all you have to do now in order to comply with the new rules is to buy the zipper style and zip them off at night and zip them back on in the morning. This is mighty easy on you, Mr. Farmer, but I am afraid it has put old Uncle Ned out of the horseshoeing business. And, alas, it has taken the stuffin's right out of that dear old poem we all used to recite about the grand old village blacksmith. Poor old fellow, he has fallen by the way, the victim of the zipper.

Since I took a text it is up to me, I suppose, to point to the lesson to be found in the text. The preachers do, and, you know, it is always safe to follow the preachers Let me point to the lesson by telling a story.

Years ago at Oxberry lived a school teacher by the name of Jonathan Phipps. In that day and time the people of that section, although there coursed through their veins the purest Anglo-Saxon blood to be found in America, paid very little attention to education. Clearing new ground called for brawn and muscle and a strong back, and these early pioneers had these qualities, plus indomitable will power and courage, to the "nth" degree. They did, however, respect education and looked up to those who were versed in the rudiments of the three R's. Naturally, Jonathan stood out as a real personage in the county, and, quite naturally, his wife assumed that what he did not know had not been written in the books, and that he was capable of engaging in any undertaking or directing any project or program. When it came to Jonathan she was no respecter of limitations, and Jonathan, because of the popular acclaim that surrounded him, augmented by his wife's admiration, was looking for new worlds to conquer. Well, in the course of time Jonathan's faithful old mare, Maude by name, reached the age that made it advisable to swap her off for a younger mare, and so he took her over to the Hardshell Baptist Association to make the swap. In that day every meeting place of the association had a jockey ground hard by, where the slickest horse jockeys that ever cocained an old mare into acting like a young filly operated without let or hinderance. Meeting a jockey that had a likely looking prancing mare, Jonathan asked:

"How will you trade?"

"How old is your mare?" inquired the jockey.

"I neither ask nor answer questions" responded Jonathan.

"Well," said the jockey, "if that is the way you feel about it, what do you say"

Jonathan looked the mare over and then mounted the saddle and rode across the jockey lot for about 50 yards and back. When he dismounted, the jockey again asked, "Well, what do you say?"

"Give you my mare and $25," replied Jonathan.

"It is a trade," snapped the jockey.

Returning home, Jonathan, thinking that he had made a wonderful trade, in high spirits related to his wife the old story about "I came, I saw, I conuered."

The next morning when Jonathan went to feed he found the mare laying down. His efforts to get her up proved of no avail, and it at last dawned upon him that the mare's spirits and spryness had been caused by cocaine, which had died out of a faithful old mare and $25.

Returnig to the house, his wife at once knew from his dpejected look that all was not well: and when he had finished telling the sad, pathetic story, she cried out:

"Jonathan, it passes strange to me that a man of your education could be made a sucker out of by an ignorant horse jockey."

And Jonathan replied—and there is wisdom in his word—"Martha, Martra, education has darn little to do with horse swapping."

And so say I; rhetoric and syntax and, B. A.'s and M. A.'s and Ph. D.'s and a Harvard accent have darn little to do with horseshoes.

Moral: As long as we have to have bureaus, divided into divisions and section, let us man them with men of practical knowledge and experience even at the expense of getting rid of some of our wonder boys, because, after all is said and done, back on the farm "pigs is still pigs" and "horseshoes is still horseshoe."

EDITOR'S NOTE: The above was from the Congressional Record. The names of Messrs. Doak and Roberts were substituted for the real naems. This COULD have happened to them.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Between 28 and 33 per cent of the road service calls answered by AAA clubs are in response to tire trouble—flats. Battery problems cause the second largest number of road calls for help.
American synthetic rubber will fill 50 per cent of the country's rubber needs, within two years of Pearl Harbor, according to a rubber chemist. This will be a speedy transition from natural rubber. Germany which started synthetic rubber development prior to 1914 now only has one car of 25 per cent of its rubber needs with synthetic.
Rubber tired trucks have been hauling about 10 per cent as many ton-miles as the railroads, ODT officials say.
Until gasoline rationing was applied as a brake, the car owners of the country were wearing off 750,000 pounds of tread rubber from their tires every day, a government statistician asserts.

Slacks and Pajamas Lead the Way to a New Field of Design

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

SO FAR we have been accepting pajama costumes as an interesting fashion diversion. Skeptics there were in the early days when pajama and trousered fashions were regarded as novel and of passing fancy. However, the practicality of the trousered costume became more and more apparent, until in this time of wartime activities what at one time seemed but a fleeting, transient fashion gesture has grown into a permanent phase that challenges designers to accept the movement as one that demands of them a technique that leads into a new field of design.

Today there is a unanimous demand for women's slacks and pajamas for every day wear, as well as for leisure moments. Designers are rushing to produce a larger and more varied collection of attractive styles than ever before. An excitingly wide range of attractive fabrics in rayon constructions, in velvets and crepes have been drawn upon. Measuring up to the beauty of fabric is the magnificent way in which designers are rising to the situation of creating smart and diversified fashions along the new avenue of thought.

The models pictured speak for themselves in that they demonstrate the really triumphant grasp of things that has taken place among style creators who are, with their designing ability, giving to the new trousered vogue a stable and permanent place in the mode for all time.

The call for at-home costumes that will defy the menace of low temperature is met in the costumes shown in the above illustration. It is interesting to note the versatility they express and the one note that rings through the group is the charming femininity that has been stressed in the modish jacket and tunic tops.

Pilot blue rayon fabric with an attractively textured surface is used for the youthful pajama suit above to the left. Interesting style details are seen in the peplum effect and especially in the scallop treatment.

A charming antidote to chills is the striking hostess pajama ensemble centered in the group. The long-sleeved jacket in sapphire blue rayon crepe combines with well-cut trousers in sooty black. The black accent is repeated smartly at the jacket front where gold embroidered applique adds a sumptuous look. You may be tempted to appropriate this regal looking jacket as a fitting complement to a formal floor-length crush-resistant velvet skirt should occasion demand.

Velvet Highlight

This season it is both patriotic and smart style to make one dress play a many-purpose role by changing its accessories. Pictured above is a simple black afternoon frock which has been high-spotted with detachable bows of black velvet. The magic of accessories is further stressed in a picturesque hat made of rose colored velvet, plus gloves of matching velvet. The fact that the hat and gloves are rose colored is style significant, for black costumes highlighted with pink rank ace high in importance this season.

Handknit Frocks

Many new and interesting details give to handknit frocks outstanding style this season. One of the smart fashion trends is the wee narrow yarn fringe that outlines edges of yokes, pockets, sleeves and necklines. The use of handmade yarn ball trimming is also noted, likewise little yarn tassels.

Be Sure to Choose Earrings Carefully

Important fashion news points to earrings. That earrings add general interest to the face there is no doubt, and chosen carefully from the color standpoint they certainly add brilliancy to the eyes. However, don't think that any old earrings will do the trick. Choose your earrings with a very keen sense of proportions of your face and be sure to try them on with and without your hat.

A pair of gold earrings in a fine floral pattern, or a leaf design, in loop effect scroll or a two-tone twist will always be smart and will go with both daytime and informal clothes. In selecting earrings the best thing to do is to match or accent your eyes. Watch your lipstick and finger nails that their color does not clash with jewels.

Tiny, Veiled Hats Are Trimmed With Ostrich

Very tiny hats are popular for dress occasion. Especially favored are the wee ones that are cunningly trimmed with ostrich tips in rose or light blue or fuchsia tones. With these you wear a crisp veil that stands out daintily like a halo about the head. These veils are stiffened to flare out like a brim, and they keep in good form without wilting down in limp and unsightly fashion.

Lace Edging

If in doubt as to how best to finish off the edges of the print frock you are making, or the pastel faille frock or taffeta plaid blouse, let narrow black lace be your answer. This pretty trim is to be seen everywhere The black sheer dress with low-cut neckline is very charming with the new frilly black lace accent.

ON THE HOME FRONT with RUTH WYETH SPEARS

THIS colorful afghan was made by clever fingers from the best parts of old woolen garments put together with odds and ends of bright yarn. Even trousers and fitted jackets yielded strips of the size required.

By holding the goods up to the light it is easy to find the unworn parts. These are cut out roughly; washed with mild soap in lukewarm water; rinsed with a little soap in warm water; and pressed while damp. The pieces are then cut accurately according to the measurements given here. Single crochet stitch is used around all pieces, and the sketch shows how the pieces are sewn together.

For You To Feel Well
24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.
If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.
Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at nights, swelling.
Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

Farmers' Problems Now Exceed Others'

He Must Supervise His Three Main Jobs

The farmer's problems in this war are much more difficult than those of most other people, says Roy E. Moser, extension economist of the Massachusetts State college extension service. This is due mainly to the fact that the farmer must finance both his job and his home at the same time. The majority of people work for someone else and their jobs are financed for them. On the other hand, the farmer's opportunities to be of service equal those of any other group.

The greatest production of all time which is planned to fill needs that have been determined in advance: That is the American farmer's answer to the challenge of war.

The production of essential foods is equally as important as the production of planes, guns, and ships. And it will continue to be important long after the roar of battle has stopped.

Mr. Moser outlines three main jobs of farmers in the present emergency.

The farmer's first and most important job is to make the farm produce its maximum of essential foods in spite of labor shortages, lack of machinery, and other problems.

The farmer's second job is to get his debts in shape by reducing present debts to a safe basis. Moser points out that there is no conflict between the reduction of debts and the war bond program. Income paid on debts does not compete with the war bond effort.

His third job is to invest in war bonds when debts have been reduced completely or to moderate amounts. It is imperative that farmers as well as other citizens eliminate unnecessary spending and loan these savings to the government by investing in war bonds.

Agriculture in Industry

By FLORENCE C. WEED

Cereal Straws

"The time is coming when the farmer will become the supplier of the materials used in industry." This forecast was made by the late Francis P. Garvan, first president of the Chemical Foundation Inc.

Cereal straws are a fine example of the industrial possibilities of farm products. For years, they have been used in making paper and more recently in making fiber board. Most of the 84 million tons of straw is produced in Kansas, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. Wheat straw is the most important industrially and about 575,000 tons are used for paper and paper board each year. Wheat straw yields the best quality product although some rye and barley straw may be combined with wheat without altering the quality. One problem is that of collecting it economically from individual farms.

Straw has a long history as a paper making material being first used in Germany in 1765. In the United States the first straw paper was made in 1828 by William Magaw of Meadville, Pa. The industry still continues in this country and science has developed several improved pulping methods to lower costs and improve the product.

'Teen Age Men Learn Leadership In Officers' Training School

America's young men of war are learning to be leaders while yet in their 'teens. These youths of 17, 18 and 19 are receiving valuable training, experience and physical conditioning as members of the Officers' Candidate school at Fort Benning, Ga. By offering their service to the U. S. army at these ages they are following in the footsteps of many of our outstanding generals.

The accompanying pictures, taken at Fort Benning, show typical scenes in the daily routines of the 17, 18 and 19-year-old members of the Officers' Candidate school there.

Here the officer candidates learn to shoot straight and fast. They are following a moving aerial target in the course of training in anti-aircraft firing.

JESUS AFFIRMS HIS DEITY

LESSON TEXT—John 8:12, 25-36, 56-59.
GOLDEN TEXT—He that hath seen me hath seen the Father.—John 14:9.

"The Light of the World Is Jesus!" Who does not remember with what delight we as children sang, "Come to the light, 'tis shining for thee . . . The light of the world is Jesus."

How precious was the truth that thus flooded our souls. Jesus is the light. Just as the sunlight sheds its glory on an awakening world at dawn, so He sheds abroad the light of God in the hearts of men. As this portion of God's Holy Word is studied and taught, may the light break forth on many a soul caught in the bewilderment of this dark world.

But that is only one of the great thoughts around which our lesson centers. As Jesus here reveals Himself as divine, we consider four simple words, each fraught with rich meaning.

I. Light (v. 12).

The text says: "Then spake Jesus." When? Just after He had silenced the hypocritical accusers of a woman taken in sin, and had spoken the word of peace to her troubled soul. She was to "go and sin no more" because she had met Him who is the light of the world. They that follow Him "shall not walk in darkness"; they are the children of light, they have the very light of life shining in their hearts and lives.

Not only does Jesus light the believer's heart, but this light shines into all the dark corners of this wicked world, exposing sin and hypocrisy, and showing the way back to God.

II. Salvation (vv. 25-30).

"Who art thou?" That is the question every man must ask and answer as he considers Jesus. Even neglect is an answer—a rejection.

The answer of Christ in these verses goes to the very heart of the matter, for He takes the people right to the cross of Calvary. When they had crucified Him, they would know. Did not the centurion say: "Truly this was the Son of God" (Matt. 27:54)?

It is true today that no man knows Christ until he knows Him as the crucified Saviour. Teacher, Example, Guide—all these He is—but they are not enough, for we sinners need a Saviour. May many today follow the example of verse 30.

III. Freedom (vv. 31-36).

Free! Four letters, but what a depth of meaning! Chains have fallen off, prison doors are open. The one who was bound is free.

But here we are concerned with an even more important liberty, the freedom of the soul. Many there are who boast of their independence but who are naught but slaves. Jesus said: "Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin" (v. 34), not its master.

How shall they be freed? Note three things in these verses:

(1) A condition, "If ye continue in my word." This means not only a profession of faith, but a daily appropriation and realization of His truth in life.

(2) A promise, "Ye shall know the truth." The philosophies of men profess to be a seeking after truth, but how few there are who look to the one place where it can be found—in Jesus Christ.

(3) A result, "The truth shall make you free." Truth always sets free. Men are enslaved because, as in some foreign lands, they have not had the opportunity to learn the truth or because they have rejected it.

Men profess to seek truth in their research and in the process of education, but without Christ they cannot have real truth. Educational systems which rule Him out are deficient and lead to bondage rather than freedom.

IV. Eternity (vv. 56-59).

Taking up their statement that they were Abraham's children (see vv. 33, 37), Jesus enters into the sharpest controversy with the unbelieving Jews of His entire earthly ministry. They were claiming kinship with a great man of faith who in his day had looked forward to the coming of Christ (v. 56). Now He was here, and instead of receiving Him as their Messiah they were ready to kill Him.

Not only did they claim Abraham as father, but also God. Jesus told them that in their sin and unbelief they were of their "father the devil." It is possible, then, to be very religious, to follow the traditions of one's fathers, and yet to be children of the devil.

All this led up to their sharp rebuke in verse 57, which denied to Christ anything but an earthly existence and which led Him to the statement of His eternity. He identified Himself definitely and clearly with the Eternal One—the great I AM of Exodus 3:14.

Christ is God, and is therefore "infinite, eternal, and unchangeable in His being, wisdom, power, holiness, justice, goodness and truth" (Westminster Catechism).

Draperies that shrink may be remedied this way: Add a fold of contrasting color to the bottom of the old curtain, using a harmonizing color or cording between the two materials, and the effect will be very pleasing.

When plain pillow slips made from tubing are partly worn, rip or cut off the seam at the bottom and sew the slips again with the fold in the center. It will double their life.

The popular wrap around turbans should be washed frequently because they are handled so much. Those made of silk, rayon or knit wool can be laundered with lukewarm water and mild soap if the color is fast.

When using an aluminum saucepan for boiling eggs, add a few drops of vinegar to prevent the pan from discoloring.

A speck of salt greatly improves chocolate, caramel and white frostings and candies.

When clothing is spotted by rain, place a clean damp cloth on the material and press it with a moderately warm iron.

The secrets of washing woolens successfully are: (1) plenty of suds; (2) luke-warm water throughout the washing and rinsing; (3) no rubbing or twisting; (4) drying at moderate temperature, avoiding both heat and intense cold.

Pull the Trigger on Constipation, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on discomfort after meals, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin, as directed on label or as your doctor advises, and feel world's better. Get genuine Dr. Caldwell's.

"IN ACTION FAITHFUL"

To us in Grenada High is being given an insight into the meaning of that oft read but seldom appreciated slogan: THE MAN BEHIND THE MAN BEHIND THE GUNS. To us is being given an example of fortitude, valiant courage, and unselfish service worthy of the highest admiration.

Bereft of his only son, who was a young man of unusual scholarship, modesty, graciousness of manner, devotion to parents, and to Christian principles, Superintendent John Rundle is showing daily the superb courage of the soldier whose heroism shines brightest in the darkest hours. Never can Grenada High pupils forget the quiet courage with which Mr. Rundle again took up his duties, sparing himself not at all. Never can they or the numerous other boys and girls—many of them now prominent men and women—who have had his sympathetic and wise guidance realize how much of their best selves is due to his influence. The members of the BULLDOG STAFF are glad to be among the many whose characters Mr. Rundle has unselfishly and generously helped to mold, and they hope that the gratitude and affection of his many pupils will help him to bear the sorrow that they realize will always be in his heart.

Speaking for all the school, The Staff express admiration and affection to Mr. Rundle, a courageous soldier.

GIRL RESEIVE NEWS

The Girl Reserves met Thursday afternoon at 3:00 in the auditorium. The program for this meeting was somewhat out of the ordinary, since it was the first of it kind to be given this yaer. A quiz program, conducted by Lucy Moss and Marguerite Stanley, took about 30 minutes of the meeting. The girls answered questions, somewhat on the order of the radio program, "Take it or Leave It." Candy was given away as prizes, and those who answered the jackpot question correctly divided the candy among themselves. The girls enjoyed the program immensely and are looking forward to another one soon.

—V—

Dear Andrew: no change in the situation.

The Board of Supervisors very wisely, I think, allowed Sheriff Hayward to appoint one more law-enforcing deputy. I understand he selected Clayton Carpenter. The Board had previously authorized the reappointment of Walter Young.

I hope the City Council will not do a useless thing Monday night: that is, throw the matter of the City Council appointing the Marshal and the Clerk into an election. To carry such an election, a majority of THOSE QUALIFIED TO VOTE would have to go to the polls and vote in the affirmative—and they will never do it. The matter has been up three times within the past 3 or 4 years, and has never gotten anywhere, and never will.

God knows, the people, who have BEEN stripped of almost every right, ought not vote vluntarily to strip themselves of any of their remaining rights.

I am rather proud of the old lady in many respects. I refer now to these circumstances. At least twice during the past 12 months she has written on the desirability of producing cotton for the cottonseed. J. B. Perry, Sr. just brought in the January copy of the authoritative Cotton and Cotton Oil Press, whose lead article deals with the same subject.

This is a cotton country. Our people do not know anything about raising peanuts commercially, or soy beans commercially. Each tenant usually plants a few short rows of "gubbers," digs them laboriously by hand and, after picking the nuts from the vine by hand, dries the picked nuts on the barn roof or on the roof of the back porch.

The basic idea behind the government's plan of raising peanuts and soy beans is that the production of crops suitable for conversion into vegetable oil be increased. The supply of coconut oil and other vegetable oils from the subtropical regions has been cut off, and undoubtedly, there is a great need of increasing domestic productions, BUT peanuts and soy beans do not furnish the answer in this part of the South.

In certain parts of the South, notably Southern Alabama and Southern Georgia peanut raising has become stabilized. The government, in my opinion, should encourage more production in those areas where the people are accustomed to raise such nuts commercially, and where warehouses, banking facilities and machinery are geared to peanut production; and let our part of the South raise more cotton, if just for the oil obtained from the seed.

Hi to Henry Ray and explain, "Mr. Ray, I have five tenants and we are going to plant all of our acreage in peanuts and want about $700.00 credit for production." While he would not throw you out the front door, he would feel like doing so. On the other hand, he has, does and will advance credit to raise cotton, for he knows that cotton can always be sold for cash.

I was told by a man who knows what he is talking about that last year more seed peanuts were sold in this county than were brought back to be sold after the harvest. He did not say positively, but stated that few more soy beans were brought for processing than the amount of seed that were sold.

The government is all wet about trying to get farmers of Grenada county to raise peanuts on a commercial scale. The war will be over and forgotten before such a change could be made.

The damnest fool thing that has been done recently by the New Deal fat heads is to prohibit the slicing of bread by the bakers. It might be all right to tell the baker, "Now, old boy, when your slicer breaks down, or your saws (or knives) wear out, you cannot get replacements," but to forbid him to use machinery (in which he had a large capital investment), is outrageous.

Conservative people in the South are not quitting the Democratic Party. The Democratic party has quit them and has become an out and out New Deal Party. Mark my word, if this damn foolishness continues, the conservative Democrats will either form a new party, or form a coalition with the conservative Republicans. The Democratic Party as now constituted has no more resemblance to the old Democratic party than a bow-legged bastard calf has to the mummy of Ramases III.

The Hosiery Mill is having its difficulties about finding housing for the employees (mostly young women) who are turning out vital war materials. Any help will be appreciated by the management.

You Must Register The Day You Are Eighteen

Young men who are approaching their 18th birthday are cautioned to register on that day. Col. Lawrence W. Long, state director of selective service, stated that registration is now a continuous process with no dates for registration. Each prospective registrant presents himself to his, or the nearest local board ,between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. any day except Sunday when he reaches the 18th anniversary of his birth.. By placing his permanent address on line 2 af the registration card, he immediately places his registration in the local board having jurisdiction over that address. Since a very intensive cacpaign is being conducted to determine who is registered, it will be very necessary for each male person between the ages of 18 and 65 to have at all times his registration card in his possession. In addition, thereto, all male persons between the ages of 18 and 45 years, when registered, must possess their classification card, provided they have been registered for six months or longer.

Fishing Contest Winners Announced

The Western Auto Supply Company has announced the prize winners of its sixth annual nation-wide Big Bass Fishing contest which closed September 30. Prizes valued at $4,500 are being presented to 177 winners in addition to 32 trophy cups.

For the past six years, the Western Auto Supply Company has conducted this contest in 36 states east of the Rocky Mountains where Western Auto Stores and Western Auto Associate Stores may be found. Men, women and children have been winners in these contests.

The nationally known tackle prizes offered in each state for the largest bass entered are valued at $40 for the first prize, $30 for the second prize, $25 for the third prize, $15 for the fourth prie and $10 for the fifth prize. In addition, for the largest small mouth bass registered in each state, the company is presenting a special trophy cup.

First prize, H. M. Lindsey, Laurel, 9 lbs. 12 oz.

Second prize, R. D. Fuller, Memphis, Tenn., 9 lbs.

Third prie, E. A. Birdsong, Edwards, 8 lbs. 8 oz.

Fourht prize, H. Guy Palmer, Holly Springs, 8 lbs. 4 oz.

Fifth prize, Kenneth Benton, Amory, 8 lbs. 4 o.

Trophy winner, Aubrey B. Patterson, Vicksburg, 6lbs. 8 oz.

In most instances, these prizes are being presented to the winners personally by te Western Auto Stores or the Western Auto Associate Store in which the contestant originally registered.

The largest bass reported in the contest was entered in Florida and weighed 13 pounds, 12 ounces. The smallest prize winner was entered in West Virginia and weighed 2 pounds, 15 ounces.

The seventh annual Big Bass Fishing Contest to be sponsored by Western Auto Supply Company, which was originally scheduled for 1943, will be postponed due to the war.

EDITOR'S NOTE: We understand that the winner of second and trophy prizes were won by fishermen who caught their prize in Grenada county lakes.

Parisian Follies Entertain Men Of 87th

The men of the 87th Infantry Division, under the command of Major P. M. Clarkson, were entertained during February 2 to 6 by a variety show, the Parisian Follies conducted by the Nat D. Rodgers Production units.

The show is recruited from manpy large cities throughout the country and is brought directly to Army Recreation Halls. A portion of the proceeds collected will help build up funds for the recreation of troops.

Heading the cast of well known performers are Happy Ray and Arthur Watts, comedians; Jeanne Layne, acrobatic dancer, and many others who will sing and dance.

During the scheduled dates the variety show will perform in all areas of the 87th Division.

This show is the first in a series of entertainment projects which the "Acorn Division" of the Mid-South is planning for the enlisted men.

MOORE-PEACOCK

Rev. E. R. Henderson performed the marriage ceremony uniting Mr. Leslie Guy Moore, of Clarksdale and Mrs. Myrtle S. Peacock, of Water Valley on February 3, 1943.

Grand Jury Report, January 1943, Term

To the Honorable John F. Allen, Circuit Judge:

We, the Grand Jury of Grenada County, Mississippi, duly elected, empanelled, sworn and charged at this the January, 1943 term of the Circuit Court of Grenada County, Mississippi, to inquire in and for th body of said county, having now completed our investigations, respectfully submit the following report:

We have been in session for two days. During that time we have questioned 28 witnesses. We have inquired into 17 reported violations of the law, pursuant to which we have returned 6 bills of indictment into open Court.

We have examined the County Poor Home and the County Jail, pursuant to which we have found these buildings in fair condition. Both buildings are in need of having some window lights replaced, and there should be an additional exit on the north wing of the County Poor Home. Some new beds are needed at the jail.

By special committee we have had all public buildings in the city of Grenada examined for fire hazards and the Sheriff is directed to notify all places where corrections are neeedd.

We wish to thank your Honor for the usual very able charge given up upon the beginning of our work, and we thank all officers of the court for their assistance.

Now having completed our investigations and made this report, we beg to be finally adjourned on the 27th day of January, 1943.

T. W. McCaulla, Foreman
F. B. Smith, Clerk
G. H. Milstead, Clerk.
C. J. Worsham, Circuit Clerk.

Brig. Gen. John L. McKee Addresses Gathering

Brigadier General John L. McKee, Assistant Commander of the 87th Infantry Division, addressed a gathering at the "Victory Garden Conference" in the court room at Kosciusko, Miss.

Present at the meeting was the General and his party consisting of Captain Joseph Bower, Division Special Service Officer and Lieutenant Jerry Harter, the General's aide. The town was well represented by Mayor John Love, Mr. Arlis Anderson, Chairman; Mr. Stokes Sanders, editor and publisher of the Star-Herald and many other prominent citizens.

The theme of the entire meeting was the importance of raising victory gardens. The General, after being introduced by Mayo Love, brought out, in a clear and concise manner, the aid which a individual garden can perform towards the war effort.

"Multiply your garden by those which will produce in many other communities throughout the entire country and you will have an idea of the tremendious importance of your commendable project. Your victory gardens men that it will be possible to release more feed for our troops overseas.

"We are the arsenal of democracy, we shall be the food market of the world."

Greenville, Miss., Mother Of Five Sons In The Service

Our attention has been called to the fact that in Greenville, Mississippi, there is a gallant mother who takes great pride in her soldier sons. She is Mrs. E. H. Van Norman of 809 Starling Street, Greenville, and two of her sons are married to Grenada county girls.

Her sons are Major Garnet L. Van Norman, Ben Van Norman, Hugh Van Norman and Cpl. R. L. Van Norman, who married Miss Mabel Martin, of Grenada. Her brothers are well known citizens here, being Roy, Buford, Alton, Willie Lee (Red) and Charles Martin; and Pvt. 1st Class Chas. Van Norman married Miss Clarice James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. James of Grenada county. One grandson, Garnet Van Norman, near 18 years of age, plans to get into service soon.

One son is thought to be overseas.

P. T. A. WILL OBSERVE FOUNDERS DAY PROGRAM

The Grenada P. T. A. will observe the 46th Anniversary of the Founders Day of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers with a special program at the High School building on Thursday, February 11th at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Mrs. Donald Sharp, chairman for the afternoon's program has planned a most interesting program, and every one is urged to be present.

CIVIC LEAGUE

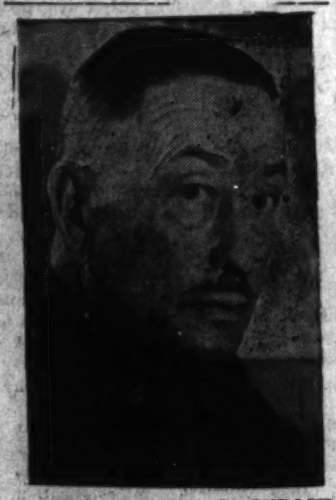
The Civic League will meet at the home of Mrs. F. R. Lickfold, Sr., Wednesday, February 10th, at 3 p. m.

MEN OF THE 87 Infantry Division

The Chief of Staff of a Division is the principal assistant and advisor to the Commanding General. He is the General's direct contact with the general and special staff and with the troops. Upon his shoulders rests a grave responsibility and for that reason he is usually a man carefully selected for the task.

The 87th Infantry Division commanded by Major General P. W. Clarkson, is indeed fortunate in having for its Chief of Staff brilliant and scholarly, Colonel Russell C. Throckmorton, a soldier perfectly suited for the exacting duties of his office.

Colonel Throckmorton was born in LaSalle, Missouri, February 12, 1892.



COLONEL RUSSELL C. THROCKMORTON, CHIEF OF STAFF

He graduated from Culver Military Academy in 1911 and received his commission to the United States Army April 6, 1917 after serving on the Mexican Border in 1916.

He spent six months in France with the 35th Division as the commander of a machine gun company, and following his return to America, after the war, attended the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Georgia, graduating in 1921.

In 1922 and 1923 Colonel Throckmorton served as Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the University of South Dakota.

From 1924 to 1929 the Colonel was on command duty with the 35th Infantry in Hawaii and upon his return to the United States was Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics at Culver Military Academy until 1935. He graduated from the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas in 1936, and from then until 1940 commanded the North Texas District of the CCC. In July, 1940 he was detailed with the General Staff Corps and assigned to the Headquarters 8th Hawaiian Department, serving in the capacity of G-1, G-3 and G-4 until May, 1941. He returned to the mainland and assumed command of the 361st Infantry Regiment of the 91st Division. On September 6, 1942 he came with General Clarkson to the 87th Infantry Division to become its Chief of Staff.

Colonel Throckmorton is married and has one son, Lieutenant Colonel John L. Throckmorton.

Robert William Sharp Completes Medical Course

In special graduation exercises for the first class to graduate at mid year from the School of Medicine at the University of Mississippi, Robert William Sharp of Grenada was one of a class of 28 members who last week were awarded their medical certificates, indicating completion of the two-year course.

The mid-year graduation was due to the adoption last summer by the University of the three-semester speed-up plan to meet the wartime need for trained physicians, and this year's class finished nearly five months sooner than they would have in normal times.

Speakers at the special exercises were Dr. C. M. Speck, superintendent of the Mississippi State Hospital at Whitfield and associate in the School of Medicine at the University, and Dr. B. I. Burns, dean of Louisiana State University School of Medicine.

Candidates were recommended for their certificates by Dr. B. S. Guyton, dean of the School of Medicine, and the certificates were presented by Dr. Alfred Hume, acting chancellor.

The graduates will proceed to four-year medical schools for the other two years of medical training necessary for the M. D. degree.

Sharp, who is a member of Phi Delta Theta, social fraternity, and Phi Chi, honorary medical fraternity, did his pre-medical work at the University. He has been a member of the Ole Miss Band, the Y. M. C. A., the Student Executive Council, and Beta Zeta, honorary band fraternity.

Mrs. Patty Crenshaw, 88, Died In Scobey Tuesday Night

Mrs. Patty Crenshaw, widow of the late Mr. John D. Crenshaw, died in her plantation home, called "Preston", near Scobey Tuesday night, February 2, 1943. Her husband passed to the Great Beyond many years ago, and Mrs. Crenshaw has been the matriarch of the large clan of children and grandchildren. None of them got too old but that, when in trouble and in need of sound advice, they failed to go to her.

She was born 88 years ago near the place of her death in Yalobusha county and has lived there all of her life. She was a life long member of the Episcopal church, and was a member of the old Southern landed gentry from which class have descended most of the leaders of the modern South. Her maiden name was Vardaman and she, therefore, was a sister of the late United States Senator James K. Vardaman, the "Great White Chief" of yesteryear.

Burial services were held at Scobey Wednesday afternoon with Rev. Duncan Gray, recently appointed head of the Episcopal Diocese of Mississippi, in charge. In spite of the inclement weather then prevailing, large numbers of her friends and the friends of her sons and daughters attended the last services.

Surviving her are four sons; J. D. Crenshaw, of Grenada, Robert Crenshaw, of Greenwood, Clyde Crenshaw, of Scobey and Gid Crenshaw, of Scobey; and two daughters, Mrs. Milton Bacon, of Scobey and Mrs. J. H. Freeman, of Greenwood. Two brothers, Messrs. Will Vardaman and John Vardaman also survive. Six grandchildren whose names follow also survive: Charles and Patty Crenshaw, of Scobey, Mrs. Byron Hunter and Mrs. Jack McClure, of Grenada, Austin Crenshaw, of Memphis and J. H. Freeman, Jr., of Greenwood.

To the sorrowful ones, we extend our sympathy.

Houston And Taylor At Randolph Field, Texas

Randolph Field, Texas—Randolph, the field which has given basic training to more flyers than any other post in America, today sent another large class of fledgling war-birds into the air.

Plunging into their rigorous nine-week schedule, the cadets and student officers are already busy in the air, on the ground and in the classrooms. Included in the current class are the following men from Grenada:

Aviation Cadet Pickens N. Houston, 108 Cherry Street, son of P. N. Houston, Oakland. He served in the National Guard in 1940, belonged to the Air Forces as an aircraft mechanic, and engine specialist, an aerial gunner and a photographer.

Aviation Cadet David M. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Taylor, of Grenada. He attended Southwestern Louisiana at Lafayette and Ole Miss. Before entering service he worked as an engineer with Chas. T. Main Co.

When the basic step in their intensive journey towards pilots' wings is completed at Randolph Field, the cadets and student officers will be graduated to advanced flying schools throughout the Army Air Forces Gulf Coast Training Center. Some will enter single-engine schools as potential fighter pilots and those destined to become bomber pilots will be enrolled at twin-engine fields.

David E. Cunningham Selected

David Earl Cunningham, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Cunningham, RFD No. 1, Holcomb, Miss., has been selected to prepare for an essential job on the engine room force of one of Uncle Sam's warships. He is enrolled in the U. S. Naval Training School for machinist's mates at the University of Minnesota here.

He will be taught how to adjust, repair, and overhaul engines and other engine room equipment, and be familiarized with the details of ship's drainage systems, distilling plants, internal combustion engines, evaporators and pumps. Upon completing the 16-week course he will be eligible for promotion to a petty officer rating, and be assigned to active duty at sea or ashore.

Service school srudents are selected on the basis of a series of aptitude tests taken during recruit training.

SONG SERVICES AT METRODIST CHURCH AT TIE PLANT

Song and prayer services will be held at the Tie Plant Methodist Church Sunday night, Feb. 7, at 6:30. Everyone cordially invited.

Mr. Bill Harmon, formerly of Oxford, is now employed at The Leader, Trusty's fine establishment.

Registrants Required To Carry Both Cards

Every registratn who is selected for service or who volunteers is cautioned to take with him his registration card and classification card. This must be surrendered to the responsible officer who inducts the registrant into military service. Any persons commissioned from civil life as an officer will be required to surrender the registration and classification caard, as well as men enlisted in the army of the United States.

In order not to delay the process of enlistment Colonel L. W. Long, state director of selective service, cautioned all registrants to have with him at all times his registration card and classication curd. This is necessary also because of the intensive campaign made at this time for location of all lost or delinquent registrants who may not now possess thtese cards.

Every male now residing in Mississippi is cautioned to carry with him his registration card at all times.

Letter From Two Soldier Boys In California

January 25, 1943

Dear Harry:

We are writing to let you and the Grenada county people know we are enjoying life in the mountains of Northwest California.

We can walk to the mountain top in front of our camp and see the beautiful city of San Francisco and the Golden Gate bridge. To our left about 4 miles is that great prison of Alcatraz sitting on a lone island.

We have very nice officers, most of them are from the north but they really treat the Mississippi boys good.

Vince and I are working in the mess hall. I am dining room orderly and Vince is cooking.

They rated us PFC and we hope to get another rating this month. Vince is planning on being mess sergeant for the 56th Coast Artillery.

We completed our rifle practice and we were lucky to get expert rating. We want the Grenada people to know we can hit the bull's eye as good as we can those squirrels and rabbits.

The climate here is very cool and damp. Have to wear wool clothes the year round.

We have been very unfortunate in finding this California sunshine taht we have heard about.

We want to thank the Grenada County Weekly for the nice stationery they sent their Grenada boys.

Harry, if possible, please publish this letter and put our pictures in the paper. We really want you to send us a copy of the Weekly.

We want the people of Grenada community to pray for us and that we may soon return to our loved ones.

Pvt. Vince Potera,
Pvt. W. H. Arendale,
4th Btry. Prov. Tng. Bn. 56CA
Fort Cronkhite, Calif.

P. S. Are sending a clipping out of our camp paper.

Lee T. Worsham Becomes A National Hero

Only the barest details have reached here concerning the known serious injury of Technical Sergeant Lee Taylor Worsham, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Worsham of Beat Two, but it is known that the plane of which he was an occupant crashed near Columbia, South Carolina, and that Worsham and one other were the only members of the crew of seven who escaped instant death.

Young Worsham, tho seriously injured, walked a mile and a half from the site of the crash to seek help.

No doubt Sgt. Worsham will receive some prized Air Corps medal for his gallantry.

Forty Graduates Placed In Nearby War Plants

During the past month forty graduates of the War Production Training School of Grenada have been placed in local and nearby war plants. These students completed courses in aircraft sheetmetal and riveting or machine shop practice offered free of charge through the Office of Education in Washington in cooperation with the local school authorities.

Both men and women sixteen to sixty are eligible to attend. Enrollments are being taken at the school on Depot Street. Out-of-town applications are welcomed. Those coming in in cars may secure payment for gasoline provided they bring a number of students with them.

Further information may be secured by writing L. E. Nortsworthy, Supervisor in care of Grenada High School.

Aint they sweet.

CATHOLIC CEREMONY HELD FOR LT. AND MRS. JOSEPH LEANA

Lt. and Mrs. Joseph Leana, who were married at Camp McCain on Dec. 8, 1942, with Chaplain Allison, assisted by Chaplain Cunningham saying the ceremony in the presence of a group of friends, again said their vows at a Catholic ceremony at the Chapel of the 345th Infantry on February 1, 1943. The bride was accompanied to the altar at this ceremony by a close friend of the young couple, Colonel Cartwright, of the 345th Infantry. The bride's father, Colonel E. A. Forbes, is on duty at Guadalcanal and her mother lives in Watertown, Tennessee.

For this impressive ceremony the lovely young bride wore a charming formal dress of pastel blue and pink. A wreath of white and pink carnations, fitted as a cap, adorned her blond hair. She was attended by Mrs. Leland Judge, who is also a recent bride.

Father Callens who has the rank of Lieutenant in 87th Division officiated. Mrs. E. E. Penn, of Grenada, played the wedding marches.

Following the wedding an informal reception was held at the 345th Officers Club and in addition to a group of young officers who were present, others there included, Col. and Mrs. Cartwright, Lt. and Mrs. Leland Judge, Mrs.. E. E. Penn, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gerard and Mr and Mrs. W. W Whitaker

DINNER PARTY

On Saturday evening last Mrs. J. K. Avent entertained a small group of young ladies at a dinner party, honoring her charming young daughter, Louise, a freshman at the University of Mississippi, who was at home for a week-end visit following "Exam" week. The home which lends itself beautifully to entertaining was attractively arranged for this occasion. The dining table was centered with a low bowl filled with pink gladioli and ferns. Each guests plate was marked with a lovely white carnation corsage. A four course dinner was served to the following: Misses Louise Avent, Carolyn Whitaker, Mary Elizabeth Horton, Winifred Saunders Joanne Wells, Ruth Lee Morrow, Marguret Green and Bebe Cullen. The girls attended the USO dance later that evening.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE CLUB

On Tuesday afternoon the Duplicate Bridge Club met at the lovely home of Mrs. L. D. Boone for games. Three tables were arranged and several guests were present besides the club members.

At intermission Coca-Colas and sandwiches were served and at the conclusion of the games, winners were announced.

Mesdames J. H. Neely and L. E. Noble won high score, and second high was won by Mesdames Groome and Kuhne.

Non-member guests were Mesdames John Wade, T. P. Groome, E. L. Morrow, P. H. Youngblood and E. C. Hayward, Jr.

Dr. and J. K. Avent are spending the week-end in New Orleans.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

Meeting at the home of Mrs. J. C. Hathorn on Tuesday, February 2nd, the Twentieth Century Club enjoyed one of the most interesting programs of the year.

Mrs. W. L. Robinson was co-hostess on this occasion, Mrs. J. B. Perry, Sr. president of the club presided and during the business meeting Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt was named city chairman for women's clubs of Grenada to sell war bonds and stamps. This was made at the request of Mrs. E. L. Wilkins, county chairman. The program committee was named for next year's study course and include Mrs. Cowles Horton, Mrs. R. L. Vandiver and Mrs. Spivey Kent.

On the program were two interesting personalities—Mrs. T. B. Revell gave a splendid account of the "lady of newspaper fame" Dorothy Thompson, and Mrs. W. B. Waterman gave sketches of women of the press, namely of Irene Kuhn, Elizabeth Jordan and others.

After the program a beautiful plate containing tomato aspic salad, cheese straws, fudge cake and coffee was served.

Two non-member guests were welcomed at this meeting, namely, Mrs. Fred White and Miss Doggette, the latter is assistant to the pastor of the Methodist Church.

METHODIST W. S. OF C. S.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the church Monday for a business meeting. Mrs. S. B. Clanton, president, presided and a most interesting devotional based on tithing was led by Mrs. Trotter The business session followed.

Sentinels of Health
Don't Neglect Them!
Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.
When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.
Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.
The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Margie Rings The Bell

Poor old Margie was an outcast and if allowed to enter the home she was usually slipped in the back door in order that the neighbors wouldn't suspect her presence. Margie's sister was welcomed in high places and allowed to grace the most elegant banquets and she just naturally was a highbrow. Margie's sister was a cow loving gal and wherever the cows went Margie's sister was sure to go. Time marched on and Margie bided her time, but being a lover of nature, she clung to the cotton and soybean fields and watched the world go by.

UP POPS THE DEVIL

Yes sir; old Satan whispered to some cut throats that they were the master race and the world needed some purging and Margie's sister has to spend most of her time in foreign countries, but we don't give a hoot as long as Margie sticks around. After all Margie's sister was just a pound of plain cow butter, but dear old Margie was part pure cottonseed oil, peanut or soybean or soybean oil with plenty of vitamins and she is an American farm product.

A Limousine Rider Now

Margie is welcomed in the big limousines now and she is allowed to come in the front door. We have a big variety of Vegetable Oleomargine and hope you'll invite Margie home with you today.

Gubernatorial Prospects

There seems to be four almost certain candidates for Governor in the August primaries: Dennis Murphree, Lester Franklin, Tom Bailey and Mike Conner.

Dennis Murphree enjoys the unique distinction of having served three terms as Lieutenant Governor, as well as a part of a term as Governor, after the death of Governor Henry Whitfield. Dennis has always been a bridesmaid, but never a bride. Although he has been engaged several times, he was always left waiting at the church. Undoubtedly he has many friends in the state and many of these close friends are men who served under him in the State Senate. But always the "land patent" ghost arises and scares the groom away before the wedding.

Lester Franklin is a likable fellow. He seems to have received the "nod" from Bilbo, whatever that is, and whatever value it may be to Leester in his gubnatorial aspirations. Bilbo's "nods" are usually "kisses of death." He seems also to enjoy the support of the Sergeant at Arms of the U. S. Senate, Wall Doxey—if that is of any alue. So far as I know, Lester has never had any experience in an executive capacoty, and has time after time been defeated when running for the office of Governor. He "wants to be Governor," but that is hardly sufficient reason for the people of Mississippi to risk their fate in a period that is uncertain as the winds.

Few people like Tom Bailey personally better than I do. He is of high moral character and made a fine record in the state legislature, where he served at least three terms. He helped wreck Bilbo's administration, and without doubt was of great aid in making the administration of Mike Conner and Hugh White successful ones. Tom made a great success in pulling a strong oar in the middle of the boat, but has never been tested at the tiller, or guiding oar. So far as executive capacity is concerned, Tom is an unknown quality. He is an "X". He might have stuff on the ball, and he might not.

Mike Conner HAS been tested at the tiller during the most difficult storm that Mississippi has experienced in my generation. He successfully steered the Ship of State from the turbulent sea of financial insecurity, where Bilbo left it, to the sea of security and safety, and relinquished his command to Hugh White who sailed the Old Ship on. Mike Conner has his faults, as all of us have. He is not the hand-shaking, baby-kissing, back patting man whose only assets are those dubious habits. No doubt, he did have to "close the door" to self seekers in order that he might look after the state's business, for which he was elected. In closing the door to self-seekers, he no doubt kept out a FEW of those who were sincerely trying to do unselfish things. Mississippi is supposed to try to elect a GOVERNOR, not a baby-kisser, and it seems from where I sit, that Mike Conner is the best man.

Give Them A Badge

A man of draft age who has been deferred or who has been rejected should have some badge or button to wear to show that he is not a slacker.

Millions of men in the United States who, apparently, should be in the armed forces but are not, have been deferred by their draft boards on account of family or occupational status, or who have been rejected on account of physical disability by the proper army doctors.

You and I are laymen, and not mind readers. We have no power to look at a young man and tell that he is a vital cog in some important industry, or that he is head of a family of kids. You and I, being laymen, and being human at the same time, are likely to say to ourselves, when we pass such a young man dressed in civiliam clothes, "why aint that damn so and so in the army like my boy is?" The young man too is bound to get an infererity complex by being on the receiving end of baleful gdances.

It would be most simple for the government to authorize each draft board to give to the man who is deferred a distinctive badge (and papers to substantiate his status) so that this young man will not be the recipient of unjustified sneers and unjustified remarks.

It would be equally as simple for the government to authorize the recruiting officers and the medical officers at the reception certers to give to the men who are rejected by them, another kind of distinctive badge (and papers to substantiate his status) for use.

This system might easily lead to the apprehension of the relatively few REAL draft-dodgers. A man of draft age would wear ane of two things: a uniform, or a badge. If he had neither, he would be distinctly conspicuous. The absence of both the uniform and the badge would justify civil and military officers investigating him fully.

The "Solid South" Broken

For sixty years, the Democratic leaders of the nation could count on the Solid South to vote Democratic even if the proverbal yellow dog were the nominee—but no more.

The number of people who are thinking that the New Deal party is not the Democratic Party is increasing rapidly.

The people here are still Democratic, but feel that the party in power in Washington is NOT Democratic. In backing away from the party in control, they do not feel that they are deserting the Democratic Party, but that THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY HAS DESERTED THEM.

Conservative people in the South are simply tired of the damn foolishness that has been going on under the guise of Democracy.

Democracy, what sins have been committed in thy name?

Bus Transportation, Grenada To The Camps

Now I am not going to stick my neck out until I find out considerably more about the bus transportation facilities between Grenada and the camp.

I do not know that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction among the members of the military personnel concerning what they consider to be wholly inadequate service; but I do not know how great the difficulties that the TriState Transit Company have in securing competent drivers and adequate rolling stock, are; but I imagine both elements in the bus transportation business are limited.

I know Mr. J. B. Randall, the superintendent of this district, and Mr. Johnson, the president of the company, personally, and I know that in normal times these gentlemen have seen that transportation facilities were provided to the extent that the trafic revenue and the convenience of the public merited.

I have heard—and I may have been misinformed about the matter—that the army officials charged with the responsibility of seeing that adequate transportation is forthcoming have had difficultly in getting a hearing with the bus company officials.

Knowing the officials of the bus company and knowing the army officers, I offer my service—if they are worth anything—in trying to get matters adjusted. I am going to send a marked copy of this editorial to each of the bus officials concerned.

Within a short time, several thousand men will be stationed at the Army Air Base. These men, like the men at Camp McCain, are located on highways over which the TriStates Transit Company has exclusive franchises. The problems of furnishing transportation to the Air Corps men will be a problem crying for solution ere long.

Eastland On The Job

I always stated during the senatorial campaign last year that Jim Eastland was a young man, full of pep and vinegar, and that, if elected, he would really "do something," instead of sitting around and accumulating moss on his back.

I noticed Tuesday a dispatch from Washington which vindicates my judgment and that of the huge majority that sent Jim to Washington. An excerpt from this dispatch is quoted:

One such instance was the case of the Harrel Chevrolet Company, of Canton, This firm has 105 new automobiles (new a year ago, that is), which are frozen.

WPB issued an order that all new cars must be serviced periodically, or else they will be confiscated. The property frozen in the Harrel storerooms is valued at more than $100,000, so confiscation would be a severe blow to the firm.

Periodically, WPB "experts" inspect the cars to find out if dealers are servicing them according to Government specification. Without taking into consideration the acute labor shortage area, WPB dispatched an agent to Canton to confiscate the Harrel cars.

The harried Mississippi businessmen turned to Eastland for aid, and Senator in turn, turned the heat, on WPB, and explained the acute labor shortage in Canton. In fact he quoted Government statements to the Government which listed the area as a "labor shortage area."

Result: WPB dispatched three men to Canton to look into the situation, and before they arrived, issued orders that the Harrel cars were not to be confiscated.

In another instance, Gulfport shrimp fishermen found that, as the new season approaches, the army was using one of their most fertile fishing grounds as a bombing and target range.

A little explanation of the situation to War Department officials resulted in an order for engineers to look for another spot for a bombing range, so the fishermen can gather their shrimp.

Neither Madison county nor the Gulf Coast area are in the Delta. The editor of the Jackson Daily News constantly harped on the "investments" the large delta planters were making in Jim. It looks from the above that ALL of Mississippi made a good investment when Jim Eastland was sent to the United States Senate.

To Senators And Congressmen

I wish to commend to Senators Eastland and Bilbo and Congressman Abernethy, the idea, embodied in a resolution recently passed by the Grenada County Board of Supervisors, of having the Federal government make some adjustment with reference to the tax loss caused by the condemnation of about 30,000 acres of our best land for use of the army and the air corps.

Grenada county is a relatively small county, one of the smallest in the State, containing only 442 square miles, or approximately 280,000 acres.

The various land acquired by the government, and automatically taken from the tax rolls, therefore, amounts to slightly more than one-ninth of our landed area.

I know that it has been the policy of the government in cases where a considerable part of a county was taken over, to make some form of reimbursement to the county affected. The government, of course, would not pay taxes outright, but it would make some financial adjustment which approximated the loss sustained by the county treasury.

This is something that our senators and congressman can collaborate on.

Watch Them

State politics will soon start.

An immense amount of stationery will be used by the numerous candidates.

An immense amount of publicity will be sought through the country newspapers.

Watch the candidates, as they have always done, carry their stationery orders to a handful of Union Label printers in Jackson, Vicksburg and Meridian.

Watch the candidates, as they have always done, carry all of their FREE boosts and puffs to the country printers-publishers for publicising.

I never could understand this custom, and never will. But watch for it, just the same.

Something To Be Happy About

According to Chops Morrow, Calhoun and Yalobusha counties have been added to the Rent Control Area, headquaters at Grenada, which is administered by Mr. Morrow.

Calhoun and Yalobusha now have something to be happy about.

Pay As We Go

The Ruml plan, or a modification thereof, whereby the income taxes due on March 15 will be postponed, or forgiven, while the country gets on a pay as you go basis, seems to be about the best taxation proposition yet advanced.

Cases where men have "spent as they earned" and will be in default when March 15 comes can be multiplied by millions. If a "pay as you earned" plan had been in effect last year, the money would have been easily collected. As it is much of it will never be collected, for even Uncle Sam cannot get blood from a turnip. Perhaps billions of dollars are due from these "spend as you earn" fellows, billions which will NEVER be collected. The taxes that class is due to pay must be added to that paid by those who can be forced to pay, adding to the latter's already onerous obligations.

Personally, I would rather pay TEN PERCENT sales tax on everyhting I buy—if such a large percent is necessary—and finance this extravagant war as we go along, than to have the government use monkeyshine financial gymnastics, and eventually leave to unborn generations the duty of paying off. It seems to me that in the long run, a fellow might as well pay 10 percent sales tax as he went along than to lend the government (which, after all, is himself) 10 percent of his wages.

The only way to make the "spend as I earn" class pay taxes is to make them "pay as they earn."

Me, Too

William Allen White, the famed editor of The Emporia (Kans.) Gazette, was in New York recently and discussed the need for small-town newspapers. White stated that the big-city papers, even by blanketing the small-town territory, couldn't compete with the readers' wish to know about local events. White made a thorough checkup in his own town, where The Kansas City Star is sold. His checkup proved that every Emporia reader of The Kansas City Star also subscribed to the Gazette. "In short," he illustrates, "if a copy of the New York Times could be distributed free to all my readers, I would not lose a single subscriber to The Emopria Gazette." That would be equally true in Jackson. Competition of the Memphis, and New Orleans papers is something that has never concerned this newspaper.—Jackson Daily News.

The Grenada County Weekly is worried by neither the Memphis papers nor the Jackson papers. These large daily newspapers have their field. We have ours. They stick to their field. We stick to ours. I have always believed that a county paper—which sticks to its field, that is the news of the community—occupies about as safe a place in this ever-changing world as any other institution.

THROUGH A WOMAN'S EYE

By Mrs. W. W. Whitaker

According to official report from Congress on January 22, of this year, the privileges granted American Japanese boys relative to their dismissal from Relocation Centers and the resumption of their studies at American colleges and universities, was "aired out" by the Hon. Paul W. Shafer, of Michigan. He asserts that in connection with the War Relocation Board's decision the National Legionnaire published an editorial an this subject and he is in substantial agreement with the writer

SUBSTANCE OF EDITORIAL

The "first generation" Japanese are exempt from military duty by government authorities, and it seems so very inconsistent to allow "first generation" citizens whom the government does not see fit to trust with rifles to be permitted to pursue uninterruptedly their university and professional courses.

Our own sons, age 18 to 35 are gallantly serving their country, and theirs are interrupted careers. They are the boys who are in the battle line today—they are not favored by their superiors to pursue their college courses, so why should Japanese boys, "first generation", be allowed to take the road which leads to higher education and the American youth take the road which leads to the battle front? There are approximately 2,500 Japanese boys who will enter colleges and universities soon. Their representative society is named "National Japanees-American Student Relocation Council" and the boys may attend any one of 259 colleges and universities approved by the War and Navy Department.

Many will agree that these young Japanese, born in America, should be required to take their full burden of national defense and if the authorities do not believe them loyal enough to be given a rifle then there is the alternative of a hoe and a place on the food production line.

NEGRO SOLDIERS

At Camp McCain, Miss., we have many negro soldiers and Grenada will have more soldiers on leave than first anticipated, because Winona, the next "large town" near Camp McCain, is "out of bounds" for negro soldiers. It seems that a drunken negro soldier cut a white man's throat down in Winona and the town's council decided against having negro soldiers there. That puts a heavier burden on Grenada, and Grenada hasn't the facilities to house even one hundred negroes. We have splendid negro citizens here who are willing to give of their time and influence, to assist in any way to make things more pleasant for the negro soldiers at Camp McCain, but they cannot begin to assume so gigantic a task of entertaining so many. The USO promised months ago to build a recreation hall in Grenada for negro soldiers. The bureaus in Washington, are blamed for the delay and that may be so, but something should be done for these home sick negro boys who are serving their country so faithfully.

There's one way Grenada citizens can help these boys now, and that's by helping furnish their company Day Rooms. This room is to the soldier what a living room is to you, and is about the only place a soldier can sit down unless he sits on his cot or the floor. Any old furniture, such as chairs, extra tables, sofa pillows, extra electric lamps, etc. is acceptable, and even furniture needing repair is appreciated.

Let's do more for our negro service man, and show him by our acts of kindness that we are not unmindful of the task he is performing.

As USO co-chairman of negro work in Grenada County, I urge that Grenada citizens give serious thought to the problem confronting us as the negro soldiers, all strangers to us, who are allowed to "come to town" expecting some kind of decent recreation and being unable to find it.

To those of you who will give a book to the Victory Book drive, may we suggest that you do so one day next week. Monday is the 8th and Saturday is the 13th. Please attend to this patriotic service during that week, and help the boys who want books during their recreation hours.

Hove you bought a war bond or a stamp recently? The war for our boys is just getting started and they need all the help they can get. Invest every penny you can in bonds and stamps and there's no other nation or combination of nations who can conquer our armies and navies so long as they are supplied with proper protection and proper fighting equipment. Buy Bonds —Buy Stamps—Buy NOW.

Occupational status and physical condition will hereafter go thru, the induction of men. Dependency status has been thrown out of the window. A single man doing vital work will be left at home, while a man with six kids who is a bartender, for example, will be inducted. This, perhaps, is as it should be, hard as it may be. WE ARE AT WAR.

USO News

Tuesday night was a gala night at the local USO Center in Grenada when Unit No. 4 of the Blue Net Work gave a most anticipated audience of soldiers a most appreciated audience of soldiers from Camp McCain.

On the program were, Lucile and Eddie Roberts (Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Roberts) who presented a magic and mind reading act. They were really great. Richard Lane, only 18 years of age, with his wonderful ability as a ventriloquist delighted the audience as only a ventriloquist can..

Penny Beaumont, accordion artist, was wonderfully appreciated. She played many beautiful pieces and her graciousness was quite charming.

The ever enjoyable and "loved" tap dancer and singer, with music and rhythm in every movement, Cathey Miller, was a great favorite. This first National presentation of talent came here at the invitation from officers from Grenada Air Base, and it is to them that all the soldiers say, "Thank you."

USO CHAPERONE RANCE AT CAMP

On Friday night, February 5 approximately one hundred girls and their chaperones will gather at the USO Center and will be transported to Camp McCain in army trucks.

On Saturday night the usual USO dance will be held at the Center in Grenada. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock and end at 11. Refreshments intermission is at 9:45.

The USO is open seven days a week, and soldiers are always welcome, so come and visit the center.

"MILITARY MAIDS"

Tuesday night was a red letter night at Camp McCain, home of the 87th Division, for it marked the first appearance of the recently organized "Military Maids" at a camp dance.

The young ladies and their chaperones assembled at the Barwin Hotel and seven army trucks carried them to the Service Club.

Major General P. W. Clarkson, Division Commander, gave a pin, denoting the rank of Colonel to Miss Grace Robinson, who was selected as commander of "Military Maids." A "Major" pin each for Margurete Finney and Frances Yeager.

Col. I. E. Ryder, Post Commander, presented identification cards to 139 feminine "privates."

Lt. Fred Cummings, special service officer, of the 347th Infantry arranged details of the dance.

Mrs. H. A. Alexander, Mrs. Walter V. Davis and Miss Mary Elizabeth McNeille organized this group and they, with many attractive matrons, also officers' wives from the camp, were chaperones.

Sgt. Warmack Smith, Jr., who is in flexible gunnery school at Lyndall Feld, Fla., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith in Hardy, and his aunt, Mrs. Glenn Thomason in Grenada. He will be here a week or so.

O. E. S. TO MEET

The stated meeting of the O. E. S. will be held at the Masonic Temple on Tuesday, February 9 at 7:30 o'clock. All members and vistors are urged to be present. Reporter.

Congratulations to Bobby Sharp, son of the late Mr. R. W. Sharp, who has successfully finished the two year medical course at the University of Miss. We were informed that he will continue his studies at Tulane University at New Orleans.

Miss Marjory Chapman left the past week-end for Belhaven College, Jackson, to resume her interrupted college course. She assisted her parents in their business establishment during the period of the first semester and now begins on an agreed course at the beginning of the second semester.

The Iris Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Will Hill this (Thursday) afternoon. Details next week.

Mrs. W. E. Jackson is visiting her relatives in Vicksburg.

FOOD FOR FREEDOM PLEDGE

(Written by FSA Homemaker)

Last fall the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Farm Security Administration, offered a $50.00 War Bond to the family on the program in Regional VI (which is made up of three states: Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana) who would write the best "Food for Freedom" pledge. This pledge written by Mrs. Johnie P. Bogan of Jasper County, Mississippi won the prize.

Quote "Fulfilling the law of Him who said,

"For I was an hungered, and Ye gave me meat".

My strength and the richness of my land I pledge to the cause of freedom. Upon the altar of freedom I shall lay food considerng it my sacred duty to serve my country."

We believe this pledge would be a good one for every farm family in the United States.

Air base boys are dribbling in. These men will add to the social and economic life of Grenada greatly. It is unknown when the Army Air Base will be finished and fully manned. Tom Neely, I understand, will manage the cafeteria there. He is a good one.

The boss (male) of the GCW is an ex-Regimental Sergeant Major. One of our two printers is an ex-First Sergeant. Solders will always find a welcome here whether he wears stars, bars or nothing.

Camp McCain News

The most talked about item out here at Camp is the new Service Club Cafeteria that has been opened up to Camp workers and soldiers over in Area No. 2. The Cafe it at one end of the Club (which also boasts a quite spacious dance floor . . . the best dance floors in Grenada are out at Camp now, of course), and has been running a little over ten days now, to the satisfaction of everyone. Standing room only two minutes after twelve is the rule.

We just had a picture post-card from Hazel Newton, former Project-Manager secretary here, who is now holding the same position in Tampa, Florida. She is living in St. Petersburg, and says that it is lovely.

Also heard from Mrs. McGee, who says she has a beautifully furnished complete apartment, also in St. Petersburg, for twenty-five dollars a month. Evidently the get-rich-quick idea hasn't struck that part of Florida yet.

There are still a lot of girls left here in Grenada . . . we didn't realise how many until we attended the grand dance this Tuesday night at the Post, and counted about sixty-five beautifully gowned girls from Grenada. And that doesn't count the equally charming chaperones. The formal dance, sponsored by the 347th Infantry, (an 87th Division Dance, you understand) was held at the Service Club in Area 2 that we mentioned in the first paragraph, was held in honor of the "Military Maids". For the details of this notable effort, see last week's GCW, same column. The Majors and the Colonel (in the singular) were recognized and and given their insignia of rank by General Clarkson, and the Lieutenants and Captains were similarly decorated by Colonel Ryder, representing the Post.

There was a floor show, managed by Whitford Price, from Greenwood, that was well received, though Miss Price says that she had such a terrible time getting through the gates that she nearly turned around and went home. Miss Garner played the accompaniment for the dancers and singers at the piano, and also "played-talked" several solos that she sold to Edgar Bergen this summer in Hollywood.

The vrst tap-dancer was a slender blonde whose name we didn't catch, and the next dancers were the daughters of Dr. Adams, all from Greenwood. There was a military finale and everything. That everything includes a solo by Sgt. Grace, very red-haired, and freckled. Miss Price asked him to announce the name of his selection, for she hadp forgotten it . . and he growled. "It couldn't be anything else but "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Well, the whole was a success. There will be another party informal, this time this Thursday at Service Club No. 1, given by the Station Complement.

By the way, the telephone gals out here at Camp are really filling out their papers to go to Alaska. They're going to make the trip in summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nickerson, both of whom worked out at Camp, and were very popular both here with their fellow workers and with the townspeople at Grenada, left this Tuesday morning for Kingsport to take over their new job. There were many parties given for Mrs. Nickerson by her Grenada bridge players, and a large jointly given farewell party at the Youngblood's last Saturday night. We're sorry to see such good people leaving.

Miss Caroline Whitaker visited home again last week-end, and attended a dinner given by Mrs. Avent for her daughter, Louise. She also had the usual dates with the usual fellow.

By the way, some of the townspeople are now working out at Camp. Among them is Mrs. Bass, who, believe, is connected with the Personnel section at the Laundry. That institution is surely coming along fine. The latest type of equipment is installed there, and the clothes turned out seem to be quite free from iron stain. It isn't in full operation yet, but they ran a few sample washes through last Saturday, and the results were fine. I never knew before that ironing a shirt was the most complicated operation. It takes about six units of machinery, and about four girls to run it. The washers, dryers, wringers and fluffers are enormous affairs, and run nearly entirely by machinery.

So ends the lesson for today.

A lot of you do not know who our Camp McCain correspondent is, but she is about the prettiest gal in camp.

There certainly was a most entertaining show at the USO Tuesday night, and it is a pity that it was not better attended.

Having recently been present at a wedding conducted by a Catholic priest I was much impressed with the dignity of the ceremony.

Sebe Clark, my Oxberry "secretary," was a recent visitor to Grenada. He has become pretty sorry since I left Oxberry.
